the hidden power to realise fully how much of our present daily life consists in symbols is to find the answer to the old old question what is truth and in the degree in which we begin to recognise this we begin to approach truth the realisation of truth consists in the ability to translate symbols whether natural or conventional into their equivalents and the root of all the errors of mankind consists in the inability to do this and in maintaining that the symbol has nothing behind it the great duty incumbent on all who have attained to this knowledge is to impress upon their fellow men that there is an inner side to things and that until this inner side is known the things themselves are not known there is an inner and an outer side to everything and the quality of the superficial mind which causes it to fail in the attainment of truth is its willingness to rest content with the outside only so long as this is the case it is impossible for a man to grasp the import of his own relation to the universal and it is this relation which constitutes all that is signified by the word truth so long as a man fixes his attention only on the superficial it is impossible for him to make any progress in knowledge he is denying that principle of growth which is the root of all life whether spiritual intellectual or material for he does not stop to reflect that all which he sees as the outer side of things can result only from some germinal principle hidden deep in the centre of their being
